

Dear Public Safety Telecommunicators,

The National 911 Program takes this opportunity to honor the fact that every day you commit to helping people when they need it the most. You do so with compassion, calm and skill, even when the days and weeks are long, which deserves recognition for your dedication to your work, colleagues and community.

Taking a single week out of the year to acknowledge your commitment, professionalism and expertise as 911 telecommunicators doesn't begin to cover the impact you make. 911 systems nationwide would not function without the demanding work and professional training our telecommunicators do while always looking for where compassionate support is needed.

The National 911 Program is proud to support the work of the nation's telecommunicators and efforts to continue advancing our profession.

This National Public Safety Telecommunicators Week, we are extending our sincere thanks and appreciation for all you do to keep our communities safe.

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Brian Tegtmeyer".

Brian Tegtmeyer
Coordinator
National 911 Program
National Highway
Traffic Safety Administration

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Kate Elkins".

Kate Elkins
EMS/911 Specialist
National 911 Program
National Highway
Traffic Safety Administration